The value of silver continually rose during the early years of James' reign, and soon the metal content of the Scottish coinage was considerably higher than face value. Consequently silver coinage began to disappear from circulation, being melted down or sold abroad. In July of 1578 the Privy Council passed an act authorizing the revaluation of the coinage. Silver coins would be bought in by the Mint and released to circulate at a higher value by the addition of a crowned thistle countermark. Under this new valuation, a ryal, for example, worth 30 shillings face, would be bought in at 32s/6d, revalidated and returned to the supplier with a higher value of 36s/9d. However, the Mint collected a 4s/3d "handling fee" per ryal. In other words, the supplier would get back a value of metal exactly equal to what he put in, while the state collected a 12% surcharge. This measure was obviously very unpopular, and in 1581 a new revalued coinage had to be introduced.

2665. Coole, Arthur B., Encyclopedia of Chinese Coins (Volumes 2-7), Mission, 1967, a compendium of every illustration of knife, spade & related non-round coins and funeral monies in the available literature up to circa 1970 along with discussions of Seal script, but little numismatic information. A good one-stop source for the researcher, but most collectors will find a simple type/variety catalog more useful. Volume 6 on Ming knives is more comprehensive than any other reference; Volume 3 is useful for spotting odd variants of square-foot late spades and Volume 5 covers interesting "debatable" money items. This ambitious project died with Coole himself and Volume 7 covering pre-T'ang round coinages was completed later, covering about 1900 pieces. This set is missing the Bibliography Volume 1, set of 6 books ex Dan Bloxsum Collection $175 - 225
2666. Coole, Rev. Arthur Braddan, Coins in China's History, Mission, 1965, 4th edition, long-time standard introduction and handbook on Chinese coinage, including pictorial overview of ancient through modern coins, multi-page timeline of numismatic & political history, plus many charts, tables, finding lists & indexes. Cordry Auction Catalogues 1-10, complete set of 10 sales, numbers I through X, dating from 1981-1989, and including thousands of Islamic coins, including many rarities seldom seen in the market. Fully illustrated with Cordry's detailed descriptions, a wealth of knowledge from the beginnings of the modern market in Islamic coins $125 - 175
2668. Craig, William D., Coins of the World 1750-1850, Racine 1976, 478 pages, hardcover with dust jacket, this was THE standard work before the Krause catalog and still useful for a clear overview of the period covered. Listing format is strictly historical, though not as comprehensive or detailed in variety listings as Krause, this the 3rd (and final) edition $15 - 25
2669. Deyell, J., Living Without Silver, Delhi, 1990, 388 pages, 36 plates, hardcover with dust jacket. This book is concerned with money as an indicator of economic activity. It makes a comprehensive examination of the use of money from Afghanistan to Bihar, and from Kashmir to Malwa, during the period AD 750-1250. Its major premise is that the patterns of production, exchange, and dispersion of money over time can be used to define the economic systems of early medieval North India. This book explains and interprets the economic history of the period, using current models of feudalization, decentralization, trade, and commerce. The author rejects the common perception that money during this period was scarce, primitive, and debased, by analysing the evidence of surviving coin hoards. His findings suggest a considerably greater reliance on money, closer co-ordination of its use, and its wider circulation in larger quantities, than is consistent with many current models of the early medieval Indian economy $60 - 80
2670. Ding, Fubao (Ting, Fupao), Lidai Gu Qian Tushuo (A Catalog of Ancient Chinese Coins), Taipei 1978, reprint of the 1940 original, 240 pages, hardcover, a distillation from his 1938 "Encyclopedia." with rubbings in historical order of every type & brief Chinese captions with additional non-comprehensive listings of Korean, Japanese, Vietnamese, and unidentified cash coins, Chinese text, the long-time standard among Chinese-reading collectors, ex Dan Bloxsum Collection $20 - 30
2671. Ding, Fubao, Gu Qian Da Ci Dian (Dictionary of Ancient [Chinese] Coins), Beijing 1984 reprint of 1936 original, 422 pages, hardcover, stroke-order catalog of many published China cast coins plus traditional source material on them, a very important work on Chinese coins, Chinese text ex Dan Bloxsum Collection $40 - 60
2672. Du, Weishan (Roger Doo), Ban Liang Kao (Study of Ban Liangs), Volume 1, Shanghai 2000, 123 pages, soft cover with fold out chart and illustrations throughout, published by Shanghai Fine Arts Publishing House, the first of two volumes on the most complex Chinese coin type, the banliang (pan liang), referencing the author's own collection, with Chinese text, limited print run, ex Dan Bloxsum Collection $20 - 30

2675. Government of India, The Imperial Gazetteer of India, Delhi reprint by D. K. Fine Art Press of Oxford 1931 original, 66 high quality color plates, hardcover, superb location index at back, great maps of late British Indian period showing cities, provinces, and a wide variety of political and other maps $30 - 50
2676. Gupta, Parmeshwari Lal, Coins: India-The Land and the People, New Delhi, 1979, third edition, 255 pages, 34 pages, softcover, a good overall view of the history of Indian coinage $10 - 20
2677. Han Yong-dal, Han'guk ui kojon (Korean Coins), Seoul 2002, 327 pages, softcover, this appears to be a very thorough catalog of Yopchon (cash), probably in more depth than Mandel, and with illustrations (rubbing or photo) for every furnace number, not just one per type. There are many more examples for the Medieval series. There appears to be a dictionary or finding list, and much informational material, though all in Korean $75 - 100
2678. Henderson, J. R., The Coins of Haidar Ali and Tipu Sultan, Madras, 1921 (original), 123 pages, 9 plates, hardcover, still a useful work with excellent quality plates $40 - 60

The standard reference, both volumes hardbound together in bright blue with gold lettering $100 - 150
2705. Mitchiner, Michael, Indian Tokens: Popular Religious & Secular Art from the Ancient Period to the Present Day, London, 1998, 240 pages, 1,080 pieces catalogued and illustrated with valuations. A major feature of this study is the evolution of popular religious and secular art through the past two millennia. Many facets of popular religious expression illustrated on tokens find no parallels in such better known media as coins, sculptures and statues. The various classes of tokens considered here provide one of the richest media illustrating popular iconography and the evolution of religious concepts. A good start at cataloging Indian tokens $75 - 100
2706. Mitchiner, Michael, Jetons, Medalets & Tokens: Volumes I & II, Volume I: The Medieval Period & Nuremberg, Sanderstead 1988, 704 pages, hardcover, with over 2,300 jetons photographed and cataloged in detail, plus Volume II: The Low Countries & France, Sanderstead 1991, 864 pages, hardcover, with over 4,400 jetons photographed and cataloged in detail, a wonderful and useful set for any library, lot of 2 volumes $150 - 250
2707. Mitchiner, Michael, Oriental Coins and their Values - Non-Islamic States & Western Colonies AD 600-1979, London, 1979, 640 pages, with nearly every type photographed, hardcover. More than 4750 coins catalogued with photos: 1) India from the fall of the Guptas through rise of Islam, 2) Colonial & modern India & Ceylon, 3) Nepal, Assam, Tripura, Arakan, Burma, Thailand, Cambodia, Malay peninsula & Indonesia 600 AD to present, 4) (less useful) China, Japan, Annam & Korea from T'ang to present. Dynastic tables, historical background. Rendering in original script with translation for most coins. The India section alone is worth the price. Important listings of southeast Asian odd & curious items. His catalog numbers are widely used and this is still an important reference $150 - 250
2708. Mitchiner, Michael, Oriental Coins and their Values - The World of Islam, London, 1977, 503 pages, with nearly every type photographed, hardcover. An in-depth survey (4011 listings) of Islamic coins from Spain through India to Indonesia with weights, transcription and translation of legends, a widely-used numbering system, convenient side-by-side catalogue and plates, values. Historical background and useful dynastic lists for each series. Extensive mint listing. Contents in English & Arabic $150 - 250
2709. Mitchiner, Michael, Oriental Coins and their Values: Ancient & Classical World 600BC-600AD, London, 1977, 760 pages, hardcover; the entire ancient world, except Europe, in one volume: Origins of Western coinage, ancient Middle Eastern series, Indo-Greek, Kushan, punchmark series, Tribal & later Indian, and pre-T'ang era China. Extensive historical & numismatic background on all series. Detailed listings with weights, transcription & translation of all legends, convenient format with listings & photo plates side by side. The Mitchiner numbering system is widely used and that makes this an important reference, out of print $200 - 300
2710. Mitchiner, Michael, The History and Coinage of South East Asia Until the Fifteenth Century, London, 1998, 256 pages, hardcover, photos of every type. Section 1; The economic, commercial and cultural background. Section 2; Early South East Asia and its coinage $75 - 100
2711. Mitchiner, Michael, The Land of Water - Coinage and History of Bangladesh and Later Arakan, circa 300 BC to the Present Day, London, 2000, 160 pages, illustrated throughout with valuations. A major emphasis tended to be given to the Islamic period in earlier studies, partly because the history and coinage of this period can be most readily documented. There remains much which has not been adequately discussed and one of the author's aims in the present study has been to address especially those areas in which there remains ample scope for debate $75 - 100
2712. Moin, Danish, Coinage of Haidar Ali and Tipu Sultan: A Typological Study, Indian Institute of Research in Numismatic Studies, Nasik 2003, 56 pages, 3 plates, softcover, a background, with some interesting new attributions of early types; good catalog and plates, but does not show examples for each mint $10 - 20
2713. Munro, Neil G., Coins of Japan, Yokohama 1962 reprint of 1904 original, 281 pages, 44 plates, hardcover. Despite all that has been published in Japanese, this old book is still the best western-language reference for the pre-Meiji series. Some Esen amulets are also included, ex Dan Bloxson Collection $35 - 45
2715. Nicol, Norman D., et al, Catalog of the Islamic Coins, Glass Weights, Dies and Medals in the Egyptian National Library, Cairo, Udena Publications, Malibu, California, 1982, 313 pages, 28 plates, hardcover, English text, 15 page introduction in Arabic. A listing of the complete collection of Islamic coins in the Khedivial collection in Cairo. The collection had greatly expanded since Lane-Poole's publication of the library holdings. Every coin is listed with mint, date, weight and diameter, as well as cross-references to other catalogues. Few legends are written out, but Umayyad and other coins have their annulet patterns and other design elements listed. There are several indices by dynasty, mint, and date, and photographs of selected coins from the collection. One of the important catalogues of collections of Islamic coins, R $100 - 150
2716. Prabhu, Govinda & Pai, N., The Alupas; Coinage and History, Mumbai 2006, 200 pages, 40 color plates, softcover, History and catalog of Karnatic dynasty 5th-15th Centuries.; a catalog of 180 coins with color photos and enlarged drawings. Information on forgeries. A thorough and attractively presented work on this limited series of gold fanams and pagodas $25 - 35
2717. Puddester, Robert P., Catalogue of British India historical medals: Including Temperance, Shooting and Sporting Medals, Badges, and Miscellaneous items, New Delhi 1987, 245 pages, First edition, covers general award medals: Viceroy, Govt., Durbar and Royal Visit, University, College & School Prize, Exhibitions, Associations & Societies, Parsis Medals $20 - 30
2718. Rahman, Aman Ur, Zahir Uddin Muhammad Babur: A Numismatic Study, Karachi 2005, 103 pages, 37 color plates, Historical and numismatic background of this Central Asian series which preceded Akbar's more Indianized issues.
