The obverse die is the same as the British Museum specimen (Lane-Poole-382), which was acquired by the museum from Marsden, thus likely struck before 1823. On the reverse (not illustrated in the BM catalog), there is a tiny dot after the two pellets that go with the "i" in the name jahangir. This is exactly what characterizes the mohurs and rupees struck at the British Calcutta mint from 1793 to 1835, and we would suggest that this piece was also produced at the Calcutta mint, either officially or quasi-officially, perhaps for presentation or gift purposes.

In 1974, a hoard of gold coins was discovered along the riverbank near the city of Akola. It is believed the mohurs represented military pay sent from the mint at Surat to Mughal troops fighting near Golkonda. As the story goes, the courier rested with the troops at night in the dry riverbed. Suddenly premature monsoon rains filled the area and swept away the caravan - and with it the whole gold mintage of the Surat mint for that year. Perhaps this tale was invented to conceal what really had happened, most likely either loss or theft or some other egregious activity.

2289. MUGHAL: Shah Jahan I, 1628-1658, AV mohur (10.96g), Surat, year 2, KM-255.6, from the Akola hoard, gorgeous strike, NGC graded MS63 , ex Ajit Singh Collection $2,000 - 2,200

2344. MUGHAL: Shah Alam Bahadur, 1707-1712, AR heavy rupee (11.84g), Tatta, AH1123 year 5, KM—, special issue with both sides in a hexagonal border, some damage near the rim, probably from hornsilver deposits, VF, RRR, ex M.H. Mirza Collection $160 - 220

The heavy rupees of Shah Alam Bahadur were struck at a few mints, principally in AH1123 with regnal year 5, more rarely 1123 year 6, plus a very few examples of 1122 year 4 and 1122 year 5, and only 1122 year 5 for Tatta. The analysis of these heavy rupees by Alan Deshazo was published in the ONS Journal #220 (summer 2014). He shows that at least 10 mints produced these, all very rare, and production was mandated by an Imperial Farman that was retracted very shortly afterwards.

2386. MUGHAL: Alamgir II, 1754-1759, AR rupee (11.15g), Merta, AH1166 year 3, KM—, Lingen-M.02.01, the mint name appears in the lower right of the reverse, immediately below the word ma'nus and fully clear, as are also the date and regnal year, About VF, RRR, ex Stephen Album Auction 15, Lot 1020 $700 - 800

Merta is an extremely rare mint in the name of Alamgir II, and this appears to be the third known specimen, as Lingen cited the specimen on Zeno (#86098, to which this piece is die-identical) as the second known example. Technically, this is a local issue of the state of Jodhpur (Marwar), during the reign of Bijay Singh (1752-1793), as the mints under Marwar (Jodhpur, Pali, etc.) were not officially authorized by the Mughal administration until 1780 or thereabouts. The date is said to be in the fasli era or solar years introduced by the Mughal emperor Akbar, but it might also be a typo for 1169, which would correctly agree with regnal year three of either Alamgir or Bijay Singh.
